TUG OF WAR RULES

- Each team consists of eight members, although this number can vary depending on the specific rules of the competition.
- A long, thick, and sturdy rope with a centre mark is used. The rope is marked with a centre line, and coloured ribbons or tape may be used to indicate this line.
- The teams start by standing on opposite sides of the centre line, gripping the rope.
- The objective is to pull the rope so that the centre mark crosses a designated point on the ground on one side, indicating that a team has successfully pulled their opponents across the line.
- The team that manages to pull their opponents across the centre line or past a designated point on the ground wins the match.
- Competitors should wear appropriate footwear to avoid slipping during the contest.
- It's important that all participants follow the rules and guidelines for safety and fair play. Tug of war can be physically demanding, so proper technique and sportsmanship are crucial.
